HOUSTON COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Resolutions Touching the Life and Death of Dr J. C. Howell

John Robert Crayton, M.D., was born near Elba in Elba County, Alabama, October 8, 1843, and began the practice of medicine in Dothan, Alabama, October 1, 1857, as President of the Houston County Medical Society and Secretary and Editor of Henry County Medical Journal, 1893-1900. He died at Dothan, Henry County, March 18, 1909, after nine years.

He was the first President of the Houston County Medical Society. In 1891 he became a medical Counsellor of the Alabama Medical Association.

In 1900 he became Junior Vice President of the State Medical Association of Alabama and Senior Vice President in 1901. From 1901 until his death he was a member of the State Board of Health from the Censors of the State Medical Board. All the epidemics of contagious diseases which have visited this country since his residence in Dothan, viz., at the head of the local quarantine service.

In early 1900, this distinguished man received the final summons of life, his soul to the Almighty, who has laid up in store for him after the following the memory of our beloved one.

First of all our profound condolences in sympathy and for all members who served him for the interest and the welfare of medical privileges bestowed upon him by God and others.

Second, that we are gratified in the firm confidence of our friends and we stand with an avowed desire for the memory of the one with whom he had sojourncd the Great Pyramids.

Third, that it will afford a comfort and solace to his son as just one in our class is just one in our church mark of excellence so ably achieved by his father.

Fourth, That we extend our sympathy to his bereaved family.

That these resolutions be printed by The Dothan Eagle by the Mobile Medical Journal and the Alabama Medical Journal.

That a copy be spread upon the minutes of the Houston County Medical Society.

That copies be furnished to the members of his family and his brother and sister.

AN UNWARRANTED INTERFERENCE

An effort on the part of the president of the United States to prevent the inevitable of a movement from enacting laws for the protection of the people of that state known as undemocratic and unwarranted usurpation of authority.

Admitting for the sake of this discussion that the cordial relations between this government and Japan would be impaired by the enactment of a law by the legislature of California forcing the separation of the races in schools the law should be enacted anyway.

I deny that that would be the effect. But if it should be, it is more important to preserve the purity of the white race and the integrity of her institutions in order to avoid international complications; she had better cease to be an independent nation altogether.

I am opposed to war but if war is necessary for the preservation of our racial purity and the domination of the white man, then I am in favor of war.

I would rather see the race exterminated than have its blood polluted.

It is nothing but a falsehood that Roosevelt is holding up before the Legislature of California. His interference in this matter is merely to the manhood of the race and they should respond to his suggestion and pass resolution rebuking him for his unwarranted illusiveness.

Yes, I am in favor of fighting for the purity of the race. When America becomes so servile, so cowardly, so devoid of those heroic qualities which have characterized the Anglo-Saxon during all of his history as to yield to the demands of expediency to avoid a conflict, then will she come to be the proud dominating nation of the earth.

To the purity of the race we are indebted for the progress of the race and the civilization that promises the beginning of the twin faith century.

The Anglo-Saxon has universal refusal to mingle his blood with that of an inferior.

There is a pride so strong in his bosom as most anything of the kind that sometimes makes his appear cruel.

Any thing that impedes the path way of his progress he destroys.

It may be cruel but the ends justify the means.

He has survived because he is fit to survive and if he will continue the march of the wonderful to survive. And if he will continue the march of the men whose progress which he has made—if he would maintain that unquestionable supremacy which he enjoys in the affairs of the world today that prejudice must be kept alive.

It is essential, though at present and the men who would dis courage or militate against that domination will that glorious pride is an enemy to the white man's civilization and he becomes a degraded advocate of race deterioration. The issue

REVIVAL MEETING AT FOSTER STREET M. E. CHURCH

The meeting started yesterday with two very able sermons by the pastor Dr W. P. Hurt. Much interest was taken by the members.

The services will be at 10 a.m. and 7:15 p.m. through this week.

Preachings by Rev T. J. Mangum.

You are cordially invited to attend and take part in the services.

TAFT AND THE SOUTH

President of the United States since the war has shown some interest in the South which is far from manifested by President elect Taft.

From every indication in from all that he has said once and even before his election we might conclude that the incoming president means to be a president of the whole country and not of one section as has been largely the case since the war closed 12 years ago.

Mr. Taft has not only promised to be such a president but he has come among us with the evident intention to learn more of the South and her problems both social and political. From what Mr. Taft has said we may expect him to do just as to us in all of his political appointments. Of course we who supported Mr. Bryan as we would any other Democrat who might be nominated up on the ticket will not expect and will not ask that them

South Carolina

We do not believe Mr. Taft will be guilty of such action. We have a right to expect the next president to regard the wishes of the people in such appointments.

From the way Mr. Taft has been received in every city of the South, and from his sayings at such we conclude that we are at last to have a Republican president, even who is a big enough man to be a president of the entire country—the north and the south, the east and the west—all the same, and all for the best of each section regardless of party affiliation.

Miss Islay Cotton Hostess to the H P C Club

On Friday afternoon at three o'clock there was a meeting of the young ladies on Rose Hill at the home of Miss Cotton for the purpose of organizing a sewing circle. It was decided after due deliberation to make it a secret society as far as the motto goes which the motto letters C H P represents. I am not sure what these letters mean, for I have not been initiated into the order, but as the club is composed of some of the sweetest of Dothan's lassies, I will venture a guess that it begins with candy and ends with honey, with Judge in the center to hold them together.

The purpose of this club is to do fancy work, to become famous for their dainty handiwork with the needle as were our grandmothers in the good old colonial days. Don't this sound encouraging? I am glad to see our young women getting happiness, pleasure and profit from the exercise of their hands, as God intended that they should.

Miss Cotton served her guests with delightful refreshments.

The charter members of this club are, Miss Islay Cotton, Miss Marie Harris, Miss Robby Hays

WIRELESS

"What wonders hath God wrought!"

That was the reverent and wondering exclamation which flashed over the first telegraph wire in America, had the cornerstone for the tremendous superstructure of quick communication now a part of the world's assets.

If the hard-bitten American of the day could we dream it over the limping performance of the telegraph into what special business would they have tricked by the daily performances of the twentieth century which?

GEORGIA SHERIFF HERE

L. E. Dollar of Grady County Georgia came over here yesterday and left this morning with a person who was taken up here as a suspect.

Sheriff Butler found a man by name of John Burdette as night watchman at the Dothan Variety Works whom he suspected of being the man wanted for assault with attempt to murder. This man was going under an assumed name here his right name being John Harper. Harper was confined in Grady County jail and broke out of that prison last April. He was charged with wife beating.

last night to a big crowd, with a good company. Moredock & Watson's Lady Minstrel were the attraction. The knocker began his work early in the day and by night a great number of our folks were afraid to go or take their ladies but regardless of the drawback from knocking unwarranted the house was packed and no one was shocked. The most pur-itanical could have taken the girl in and not have been shocked by the least word said or suggestion. Moredock & Watson make a good card for an opening night full of variety and fun from the go. Good singing and splendid comedy work were on the bill and as good as has been for any season. The two black face comedians are hard to beat and with the exception of two old jokes the balance were new and freshing. In the absence of program it is hard to give the credit for individual work that is deserved. The singing of Miss Watson received the storm of applause it deserved and one of the monologues was a scream. On top of every evidence of being original Moredock the other comedian was good and as a trombone player he has the deck skinned so far as what we have seen locally the chochboy and girl stunt pulled off by the ladies was fine.

Taken as a fact Walter Brackin was fortunate in getting a good company as this for the opening night and although the company was done and justice and injured by the adverse criticisms before they were seen they will get a larger crowd tonight if the house will hold them than they got last night. The boy impersonator and with his co-workers made a big hit. We cheerfully recommend the company to the people and wish them the patronage they deserve tonight although the house was filled to the limit last night.

With best wishes I am

Very truly yours

Manager Thompson of Thomas-ville, Ga.

The Lady's Minstrel Troupe played to a large house at my Opera House last night. There has not been one yet who prided at as the best of its kind that they have seen here.

There is nothing immoral or offensive in it. The singing of Miss Watson is especially good and the comedy work of the two end men is fine. The jokes are new, the musical act in the Ohio is unique and catchy, and the whole show will attract lovers of fun.

"There will be a completely new programme tonight new jokes, new songs and specialties. You will be welcome."

"Seats Twenty five Fifty and Seventy five cents."

"Yours truly,

"C. L. Thompson."

Closing the naming meet of the company in poster to its female members makes the following proposition. It after the show tonight, there is any adult person male or female who after having seen the entire bill can conscientiously say that our offering is not absolutely clean moral and refined in every particular we will devote the entire proceeds of the evening to any charitable institution of the city of Dothan that may be named by a committee of three reputable citizens.

With no personal animus whatever though feeling that each member of our company has been done a great injustice by those who elect themselves among the pedestal and denounce the stranger within his gates without previous knowledge or provocation.

Paul Cook of the Age Herald, and Phil Armstrong of the Advertiser may be as said a pair as the magazine articles say was Lincoln, but the stuff they write don't bear out such suspicion

It doesn't seem to us like the Billie Possum idea is taking worth a hardy, and we believe 'tis because all the pictures thus far shown of him, make him look more like a Billie Goat than a Billie Possum. Study the expression of the ones the Atlanta Department Stores are showing, and see if it doesn't look that way to you

The old time country editor who kept a column of matter standing at all times to be turned loose on the competitor around the corner has passed out of journalism. He no longer finds it necessary to keep up a fight with the other fellow to make the people take an interest in his paper, and read what he says. It is the rarest thing in the world, now, to pick up a paper and read of the fight between two editors in the same town, and the reading public no longer expects one editor to lambast the other on all occasions

There must be mighty few Washington hand presses used in printing newspapers in Alabama as compared to the number once used. We notice now, in running a thumb under the wrappers, going into the weekly exchanges that we find fewer papers still damp from the wetting down the paper once received in preparing it for the old Washington press. Out of the many that come to this office less than half a dozen show this sign, and this we take it, is a sign of better times, an indication that the newspaper men of Alabama are getting along in their business of publishing a paper

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING

New York Free Press.

There comes a cry of protest from Alabama—a voice from the metropolis of Dothan. Editor Hall of The Dothan Eagle who has heretofore "pointed with pride," now "views with alarm." Ten years ago there were only three "dress suits" in Dothan and these were worn by their owners seldom and timidly in deference to a popular notion which was liable any moment to assume an acute form and make things unpleasant for the wearer. But now, according to a census taken by Editor Hall, there are no less than two dozen of the abhorrent and nefarious costumes in Dothan and their owners wear them openly and without fear or shame

DIDN'T SAY IT.

It frequently happens that an article goes through this paper that we never see till the issue is out, for we don't write near all that is in it, neither do we read all of the proofs, but we felt the need of a closer knowledge of what went in the paper the other day when a prominent citizen of Dothan, and a friend of ours, made this request:

"I want to see a copy of your paper in which you claim that the Board of Stewards of the Foster Street Methodist Church failed to collect the preacher's salary and that the preacher had turned the account over to an attorney for collection."

We looked at him again, and he still didn't seem to be joking, and then we asked him if he knew what issue the article was in. He said that his authority gave it as being in Friday's issue. That gave us time to rummage through the paper, before turning it over to him, and we felt relieved when we failed to find such a news item. We then turned over the files to him, and boldly denied any such statement, and told him to look it up. He failed to find it or anything else that sounded in the least like it.

Looking for a long time as we have for little news items that might be of local interest, we thought it strange that such a piece of news could go through the paper, without our hearing more from it before the expiration of the day following. Then we remembered how little we knew of such a matter. We don't even know what salary is paid by the Foster Street Methodist Church; we don't know what is paid by the LaPeyette Street Church or the First Baptist Church. Neither do we know what Headland Avenue Church pays, nor what the Presbyterians pay their preachers, nor do we know what the Episcopalian preachers receive. We also lack information as to what Cherry Street Church pays, and have no idea of what Baptist Bottom pays a preacher—don't know what any of 'em get but they all seem prosperous and happy and if any of them ever had to employ a lawyer to collect their past due salaries, or put the account in the hands of a collection agency, such proceedings entirely escaped us.

Evidently somebody has been deceived, and this paper has been grossly misrepresented. If you can tell us how such things get started, then we can probably tell you how it is that the editor is usually thought to be the biggest liar in town, regardless of avernupose.

It sometimes happens that we go out of the way to tell a lie but mark you whenever we do it, it is a lie that hurts no one. That is a fabrication appears on its face, and the youngest and most inexperienced reader is not deceived in it. When it comes down to lying, we can do it in such a way that it deceives on one—even Dummy would give us the horse laugh. That is the brand of lying we make a specialty of.

Another man walked in the other day, and wanted to see the paper, wherein we said there wasn't a vacant house in Dothan

We denied that and allowed the fellow to go through the files till he saw that a mistake was abroad. At the time, the want columns held ads. for people who had houses to rent. Other wants showed that some people were wanting houses. This is no indication that we have any more vacant houses at one time than another, it may merely show the shifting the moving around that goes on in any live town, still we were being accused of making a statement through the paper that might have been made thirteen months ago for all we know.

We wish to remark in conclusion that while it is a bad idea to believe all that you may see in the paper, it is far worse to circulate a thing till you know that it has appeared in it.
